TARGET GROUPS AND THEIR NEEDS: The target groups of the project are divided into two main clusters:

- the therapists
- including trainers, instructors, tutors, assistants, moderators and any other staff trained and permitted for work with people needing or requiring therapy and help. The target group needs useful and efficient tools to be able to work with people demanding help;
- the patients and clients, all those who require therapy and/or support (physically and/or mentally disabled people, homeless and unemployed, socially excluded etc.). Besides the need of capable therapy, the target group also needs social inclusion and opportunity for building healthy relations. The needs of both target groups will be satisfied by creating innovative, but embedded in tradition, materials useful for therapy. The library of video recordings will fulfil the need of handy archive helpful for any therapeutic work. The developed training materials will create chances for enhancement of qualifications profitable on the labour market and bringing opportunities for social inclusion. The project should be carried out transnationally because of several reasons:
- different countries provides various trainers of vanishing professions with their local/regional diversity,
- it is important to compare different approach throughout different groups of participants,
- participants of workshops based on tools elaborated during the project realisation will get chance for strengthening their position on local labour market and get out of social isolation

The aim of the project is to develop training materials helpful in therapeutic processes based on ergotherapy - the therapy through the work. The training materials mainly in form of video tutorials, serving as the ground for a therapeutic work, will use elements of vanishing professions and activities performed by craftsmen, working in such occupations as leather craft, saddlery, wicker work, macramé and rope making (and/or others indicated in the need analysis). As the result of the project, the therapists will obtain materials helpful while creating the model of occupational therapy based on the traditional handicrafts requiring manual activity, which can be precisely tailored for specific group. The therapists and patients will increase their qualifications, gain knowledge and skills required for more efficient therapy sessions. They also strengthen their position on labour market and became more flexible.

The training materials will combine the educational value with protection of a disappearing cultural heritage. Elaboration of materials will create excellent opportunity for exchange of experience between specialists from various part of Europe which will result with multicultural output easily understandable throughout the whole Europe and potentially all over the world.
